Surgical Notes continues to separate themselves from the medical transcription market by focusing on the pain points of ambulatory surgery centers and by developing cutting edge solutions that automate the business office. Our latest transcription service feature, the iPhone/iPad transcription app, was designed specifically for our clients' busy physicians. This workflow tool accelerates the transcription process while reducing manual processes. Physicians can view their personal schedules, dictate, and upload dictations to Surgical Notes as well as review, edit, and electronically sign their transcriptions, all from their mobile devices. Not only is the app a convenient tool for physicians, but it also benefits the business office by reducing A/R days.
